FOREWORD

It is with great pleasure that we present the latest issue of JLT, which continues our tradition of exploring the fascinating and complex world of literature, linguistics and translation.

This issue comprises seven papers that delve into various subjects written in six languages. Despite the diversity of topics, all the articles are characterized by their rigorous and meticulous approach to their respective subjects.

We are also delighted to announce that we have added several distinguished scholars to our advisory board, whose expertise and insights will further enrich our work. We are grateful for their willingness to contribute to our journal, and we look forward to benefiting from their guidance and support in the years to come.

None of this would have been possible without the hard work of our Editorial Board and language editors. Their commitment to maintaining the highest standards of academic rigor and excellence is truly remarkable, and we are deeply grateful for their tireless efforts.

We would also like to take this opportunity to invite researchers and scholars to submit their papers to our journal. We welcome contributions from all areas of language and translation studies, and we are committed to publishing work that advances our understanding of this vital field.

Thank you for your continued support of our journal, and we hope that you find this issue as stimulating and thought-provoking as we do.

Sincerely,

Marwa Muhammad Wagdy El Shereie
